NEUTRALS POLISH FORMULA FOR SETTLING BERLIN CRISIS

37 KILLED IN ACCIDENT TO DUTCH PLANE

Huge Four-Engine Plane Enroute To Amsterdam Aflame After Hitting High Tension Wire

MANY VICTIMS BURN

PRESTWICK, Scotland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A flying Royal Dutch Air-liner (KLM) Constellation crashed in a cow pasture near here today, killing 37 of the 40 persons aboard. Nine of the dead were Americans.

The three survivors all were Dutch. One American, identified as Matilda Katherine Rohus at a nearby hospital, died of her injuries several hours after the crash.

The huge four-engine plane, enroute from Amsterdam, burst into flames after it struck a high tension wire while groping for fog shrouded Prestwick airport. It crashed near Tarbolton, a few miles outside of Prestwick.

The pilot radioed the control tower at the field:

"I have hit something. I am going on fire. Attempting to climb xxx."

Nothing more was heard from the plane.

Identification of the victims, some burned beyond recognition, had not been completed by mid-morning. Only six persons got out of the flaming wreck alive and three of them died later of burns and other injuries. The survivors were reported gravely injured.

Earlier it had been reported that the death toll was 34, but another name subsequently was added to the passenger list. The plane carried 30 passengers and 10 crew members.

Two of the 40 persons aboard apparently jumped out seconds before the plane plunged into the pasture.

The body was found a mile from the wreckage.

Most of the dead were trapped in the wreckage.

John Adams, a miner, who was one of the first of the rescuers to reach the scene, said the flames and heat prevented rescuers from reaching the trapped passengers.

Another eyewitness, William Burton, of Tarbolton, said at the scene: "I heard one of the injured crying, 'Kill me, kill me.' Most of the injured were terribly burned."

The airport and villages in the surrounding area were plunged into darkness after the struck struck the high tension wire. The plane wires, disrupting communications.

The plane, named the Nijmegen, was piloted by Koene D. Farmenier, one of Holland's most noted fliers, who was chief pilot for KLM. He was reported among the dead.

The London office of the Lockheed Corporation, manufacturers of the Constellation, said it had (Turn to Page Ten)

Psychiatrist Heard At Smethport Trial

SMETHPORT, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A state psychiatrist, called for the defense, told jurors yesterday that George Miketish, 26, on trial in the slaying of his wife, Gertrude, 23, last Aug. 2, "knows the difference between right and wrong and is fully responsible for his actions."

"There is no evidence of insanity or of temporary insanity," said Dr. William J. Schilling of the Warren State Hospital.

The witness said Miketish was discharged from the army because of a "nervous condition" and the army records showed he had a mental age of nine years and six months.

On cross-examination earlier in the day, Miketish insisted he killed his wife accidentally. He repeated several times that he hit his wife only once with his gun barrel and that the blow was intended not for her but for her mother, Mrs. Darwin Dailey, 43.

Historic Gettysburg Plans Celebration On Lincoln Day

GETTYSBURG, Oct. 21.—This historic battlefield community is planning its biggest Nov. 19 celebration since Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address, 85 years ago. Town fathers have faithfully commemorated the anniversary of the famous event for the past 60 years by reenacting it in a colorful pageant.

But this year the ceremony will have an extra star spangled attraction—a visit by the Freedom Train. The traveling museum of historical documents will arrive here on Nov. 19 for a two-day stay.

And the community is making the most of the visit. In addition to the commemorative ceremony, the town will hold a week-long program of dedication to American principles.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark, originator of the Freedom Train idea, will deliver a speech marking

Control of Assembly Last Half of Duff Regime Is Big Stake In State Elections

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Control of the general assembly in the last half of Gov. James H. Duff's term is one of the big stakes in the 1948 Pennsylvania political campaign. Both sides claim it.

Republicans say they will come out on top as they did two years ago. They claim there will be landslide for the Dewey-Warren presidential ticket which will continue their majorities in both state house and senate.

The Democrats dispute this. They insist Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes will go to President Truman and, as a result, present top-heavy leads of the Republicans in both branches will be overturned.

But the final answer will come from 475,000 registered voters on Nov. 2 in the election of 26 senators and 208 members of the house. Twenty-four other senators have two more years to serve.

Both parties agree that barring an unexpected wave of ballot splitting, the vote for legislators will follow that for president. The minimum either party must win to organize the lower branch is 105 seats.

On the state senate, the story is different. There are 20 Republican senators and only four Democrats among the holdovers. So the GOP has to win only six of the 26 senate contests to retain its present two-third lead.

This last is important since a two-third vote is necessary for confirmation of Governor Duff's appointments.

There are eight Republican senators and eight Democrats seeking re-election, among them GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor of Harrisburg. The other 10 seats in the upper branch are sought by newcomers on both the Republican and Democratic slates.

Forty-four new faces also will appear in the house regardless of the outcome of the voting. There are that many representatives who sat in the 1947 legislature who are not coming back due to retirement, death or defeat at the primary elections.

Of the 166 incumbents seeking re-election to the house, 133 are Republicans and 31 are Democrats.

Four of the Republicans, led by Acting Speaker Herbert P. Sorg of St. Marys, are sure to return since they face no opposition. A fifth member, Edwin W. Tompkins, (R-Camden), has both major party nominations, but is opposed by

High Prices May Prevent The Restoration of Famed Ship

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Current high prices may become more of a foe of Commodore Perry's flagship, Niagara, than the British in the war of 1812.

For the fourth time within a year, the state rejected as too expensive bids to restore the historic ship now in Erie harbor.

A $74,777 bid offered yesterday by the Marine Rigging Works, Brooklyn, N. Y., was described by Dr. Donald M. Cadzow, executive director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, as "away above" the allocation for the job.

"We are going to have to find some local riggers to do the job if the Department of Property and Supplies will grant us permission," Dr. Cadzow said.

All the masts and spars necessary for the superstructure are on hand and only the rigging is needed to make the craft look just as it did in the war of 1812 when it was Perry's flagship in the American won battle of Lake Erie.

The specifications drafted by H. I. Chapelle, Cambridge, Md., marine architect, call for hemp rope rigging soaked in tar.

The state is insisting on these specifications to lend authenticity to the ship. As Dr. Cadzow puts it: (Turn to Page Ten)

ADmits MURDER

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Joseph Michael, 16, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of murder in the pistol slaying of Robert Lennon, 40, last July 6. The state contends Lennon was killed when he refused to allow young Michael to use his car for a getaway after a holdup. Previously the boy pleaded guilty to eight robberies and one arsony over a period of six months.

On cross-examination earlier in the day, Miketish insisted he killed his wife accidentally. He repeated several times that he hit his wife only once with his gun barrel and that the blow was intended not for her but for her mother, Mrs. Darwin Dailey, 43.

ARABS DRIVEN FROM TOWN OF BEERSHEBA

Battle Rages As Israel's Cabinet Notifies U. N. It Will Quit Fighting In Negev Desert

TEL AVIV IS BOMBED

TEL AVIV, Israel, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Beersheba, mother city of the Arab race, was occupied today by Israeli forces after a bitter battle, a Jewish army spokesman announced.

The battle raged even as Israel's cabinet notified the United Nations its troops would quit the fighting in the Negev desert area of southern Palestine 12 hours after it was assured by the United Nations that the Egyptians also would cease fire.

The fighting will continue meanwhile, a spokesman said. He indicated Gaza, capital of the Palestine government proclaimed by the Arabs, was among the goals of the Israeli southern offensive.

Egyptian planes bombed the Tel Aviv area today, only a few hours after Israel's decision on the cease fire.

Beersheba, in South Palestine, was the southernmost extremity of the Holy Land of Bible days.

The city is on the borderland of the southern desert area. The name means "seven wells." It was reputed to be the scene of the digging of the wells by Abraham and Isaac, as recorded in Genesis. Abraham is called the father of the Semitic races.

Beersheba was one of the first cities occupied by the Egyptians in their invasion of the Holy Land, and had been reported by the Cairo Press at the time as "captured."

Israeli seizure of the city opens the road to two Jewish settlements which were isolated since early in the year. They are Beit Eshel and Neve Shalom.

The Israeli air force raked Gaza and other southern towns held by the Egyptians. Their plane also struck at Beersheba ahead of Jewish ground forces, bombing and strafing Egyptian forces. Arabs fled to the hills under the attacks.

In Tel Aviv, a consular building mentioned of the places struck by the Egyptian bombing raid.

The Egyptians, bombed for five days straight in the south, struck back before dawn. Some bombs hit inside the blacked out Israeli capital. U. N. observers said no casualties were reported.

Egyptian planes apparently swept over the coastal area just after 3 a. m.

Haifa dispatches said Arab planes bombed Haifa at dawn today but little damage was reported. Air raid alarms sounded twice during the night.

The Israeli government met for seven hours during the night, deliberating on the hour at which a truce in the south Palestine fighting could become effective.

The cease fire was ordered by the United Nations Security Council. The cabinet adjourned only a short time before the Egyptian bombers reached the area.

The government did not reach agreement on fixing the hour at which troops should stop fighting in the battle for the Negev desert. (Egypt has announced readiness to accept the U. N. order.)

Party Bosses Square Off

Gov. Dewey, Sen. McGrath Speak On N. Y. Herald Forum

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says the United States has learned "once and for all that there can be no isolation for America."

This has been taught to the American people, the Republican presidential candidate said last night, by the "bitter sacrifice of two world wars and the anxieties of a peace that is not peace."

Gov. Dewey discussed the subject of isolationism after hearing a Democratic party leader, speaking for President Truman, charge that "a handful of isolationists in high places" of the Republican-controlled 80th congress "came dangerously close to sabotaging the European recovery effort."

Sen. J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, added that "the continuing threat of isolationism is the greatest single obstacle to be overcome."

He said "it hardly seems necessary to remind you where the threat of isolationism lies."

Gov. Dewey and McGrath appeared as speakers at The New York Herald Tribune's 17th annual forum.

Dewey spoke after McGrath had discussed the subject of "Foreign Policy in the Campaign."

Dewey described the United States as the "decisive" world power and said it would "act decisively" to make the free nations of the world "more powerful than the forces making for war."

McGrath told the forum audience that the following were the "outstanding characteristics of Harry S. Truman's conduct" of foreign policy:

"Patience, a firm belief in the practical possibility of lasting peace, a steady building of confidence in our purpose and insistence on 'firmness and strength.'"

FIVE BIG POWERS SAID TO BE IN FAVOR OF ENDING THEIR DIFFERENCES OVER BLOCKADE

Paris, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The five big powers declared themselves today in favor of settling their differences peacefully.

While the Security Council's six neutrals polished their new formula for settling the Berlin crisis, the "Big Five" announced support of a Russian resolution appealing to them to settle their differences.

Russia and France supported the idea conditionally; the U. S., Britain and China made no reservations at the beginning of the debate in the 58-nation political committee.

John Foster Dulles of the United States, in his first speech at this U. N. session, pledged "renewed efforts" to reach agreement with the other big powers.

Dulles agreed with the Mexican proposal that the great powers had a special responsibility to the world as a result of their strength and importance.

An official American spokesman told a news conference the new compromise was "acceptable" and "satisfactory." He said the "Little Six" had tackled the Berlin problem "in a very constructive and statesmanlike manner."

He added a warning, however, against too much optimism until the Russian attitude became known.

The political committee wound up debate on the Mexican proposal in a rare atmosphere of friendship and conciliation.

Britain's Sir Hartley Shawcross said Vishinsky had been "so kind." Vishinsky said committee Chairman Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium had "been so good."

Everybody agreed on the Mexican resolution and it was sent to a drafting subcommittee for preparation of a final text. Neutral sources said the resolution provided for:

1. An appeal to the four powers to make no move which might lead to war.

2. A call to Russia to lift the Berlin blockade.

3. The four powers to pull into action the Moscow pact making the Soviet-sponsored mark "Berlins" sole currency under four-power control.

4. Raising the blockade within 48 hours after the approval of the resolution. The Foreign Ministers Council to meet immediately after ward to discuss all German problems.

The proposal, climaxing two weeks of behind-the-scenes maneuvering won qualified acceptance as a basis for discussion from both sides.

Official sources said the United States, Britain and France agreed it might form a basis for settlement. Some quarters said the resolution was "eminently satisfactory" to the western powers.

She was tried as a war criminal. While she was in jail, awaiting trial, she bore a child whose father has never been established.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A mother who was to have been divorced tomorrow and her intended bridegroom were found dead in the overflowing bathtub of a near North Side Hotel room early today.

A letter to the dead man from the woman's husband was found in the room, and read in part: "Don't jump off any tall buildings. No woman is worth it."

Police identified the couple as Mrs. Jessie Beck, 31, formerly of Davenport, Ill., and Waukegan, Ill., and her fiancé, George Reading, about 40, of Detroit, Mich.

Their nude bodies, clasped in each other's arms, were completely submerged in the bathtub in the Croydon Hotel. Police said a note was found in the room which read: "May God forgive us. To our friends our lover Jessie and George."

They had registered at the hotel as George and Jessie Reading. Attorney Clarence C. Rhoads counsel for Mrs. Beck, said the woman was to have been divorced tomorrow from Clarence Beck, a Davenport shoe salesman.

Rhoads said Mrs. Beck and Reading then were to have been married immediately.

DIES IN CRASH—Mrs. Martha Fergus, 64, of West Newton, was killed in an auto-truck crash yesterday on the Pennsylvania turnpike, 15 miles east of here. Her husband, James Fergus, suffered fractured skull, broken ribs and other hurts. His condition was reported critical at Everett hospital.

"We are serving notice on the coal industry that this is another 'must' for the protection of our people."

Reed asserted the United Mine Workers will continue its efforts to increase what he termed "inadequate compensation paid to survivors of miners killed on the job."

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Two police groups today favored a proposal to require motorists to stop while a school bus loads or unloads children.

They also called upon the 1949 legislature to:

Require driver training programs in all high school curricula.

Legalize the use by police of the Drunk-O-Meter in all cases where an operator of a motor vehicle is suspected of driving while under the influence of liquor.

Two California fliers, dropping into their third day in an attempt to set a new flight endurance record, have competition today from two Texas pilots.

Dick Reidel and Bill Barris, the Californians, took off Tuesday from the Fullerton, Calif., airfield and hope to stay aloft until Oct. 27.

Last night Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons, both former Army Air Force pilots, began another attempt to better the record at Dallas, Tex.

The present endurance mark of 726 hours is held by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper. It was set at Long Beach, Calif., in 1939. Carroll is now an American Airlines captain and Schlieper is in charge of a flying service in Long Beach.

The Texas fliers filed a 1,500-hour flight plan. The Californians say they plan to stay up 1,000 hours.

Vinmont and Simons refused to pull up cans of gasoline from a platform on a speeding tugboat. The Reidel-Barris team also uses a pickup retarding method, traveling 50 miles an hour at a latitude of 50 feet.

THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF U. N.

United Nations Week, which commemorates the third anniversary of its active history, finds the world organization with not too much to boast about. Certainly the hope of peace has deteriorated since the fall of 1945. And certainly most of the UN's efforts to prevent that deterioration have been discouragingly unsuccessful.

There are two big reasons for this discouragement. One is the unlimited veto power of the Big Five, a serious organic weakness of the UN Charter. The other is the behavior of some of the member governments, which is not a fault of the United Nations as such.

The veto, or even the ever-present threat of its use, has blocked a number of urgent actions. The most vital of these is a UN agreement on atomic energy control. Other consequences include the failure to get anywhere with conventional disarmament or to establish a UN armed force or to end the civil war in Greece.

The Palestine conflict is a disappointment for which the veto cannot be blamed. So is the lack of progress in some of the less-publicized UN committees. Their important, but rather intangible and long-range assignments (like human rights, for example) have run up against a Russian refusal to sacrifice national self-interest or to yield an inch in Communist-police state ideology against the pressure of world opinion.

But still one has to ask what the condition of world affairs would be today without the UN. And the answer could not very well be a pleasant one. At worst, the present condition is better than secret diplomacy and more real curtains. It is better than a situation in which growing tensions would be subject to no official, concerted action or comment by the world's governments.

At best, the present condition is improved by an organization which at least keeps discussion going in an atmosphere of growing realism, if not of growing optimism.

The UN has not given up discussion and effort so long as they were possible. It still commands the nominal respect and support of its members. And that is important, even though the allegiance of some member governments seems scarcely to amount to lip service at times.

At the end of three years the world organization's great need is for a continuing and healthier life in which the great weakness of the veto is remedied. Nothing is to be gained by a suggestion of dissolving the UN, or even of dismissing it cynically as an impotent debating society.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

A man whose automobile had killed a cow on an Arizona road took the car to a garage for repairs to a damaged front end, says Reader's Digest.

"Will I have to pay for the cow, too?" he asked. "No, you don't pay unless you were exceeding the speed limit, and you weren't. You can call me for a witness if you need me."

"But you weren't with me—it would be perjury." "Don't worry," the garageman reassured him. "We get these cow cases all the time. If you hit a cow when you are going less than 45 miles an hour, you bash in the radiator. Between 45 and 55, the cow lands in your lap. Up around 60 she goes over the top. You weren't doing more than 45."

SIGN OF NORMALCY

We note with pleasure that some manufacturers of men's clothing are now using a new compound on suits which they guarantee unconditionally will make them mothproof. Besides the obvious, or anti-moth, reason for gladness, we also rejoice in the implied assurance that the clothing situation is looking up.

The wartime suit shortage and the high prices that accompanied the return of abundance have kept a lot of masculine wardrobes at an austerity level. So it is good to know that the American male is apparently getting back to the point where he can rest a few suits in the closet long enough to revive the menace of the leisurely moth.

Several communities in the area working on the theory that the best way to keep children out of mischief Halloween evening is to provide them with wholesome entertainment, an idea, we predict, will work out with satisfaction to all concerned.

An agitation to have replaced the bridge at Dewdrop, washed out in the spring of 1946, will meet with unanimous support of local motorists having occasion to drive through the Kinzua-Kane area.

They started playing football late in the season fifty years ago in this area. We note from the Evening Mirror of October 21, 1898: "The Warren High School football team will play its first game of the season at Sugar Grove tomorrow. The boys have been practicing hard for several weeks and will undoubtedly play a strong game. The personnel of players is as follows: Center, H. O. Wheelock; right guard, Fred Borchers; left guard, James Garfield; right tackle, O. W. Ensworth; left tackle, G. VanNess Yates; right end, George Betts; left end, Joe Moore; right half, Ed Schwing; left half, A. B. Vera; fullback, Leon Kehr; quarterback, Frank Hesch. The Corry High school team will be here next Saturday."

This And That: The Erie Vets defeated the Tarentum Steelers Tuesday evening in the Erie Stadium by a score of 27 to 0, and according to sports writers the "football emporium was a distinctive mud puddle." The American Bowling Congress has announced there will be an all-time high of $500,000 in prizes for the 1949 tournament scheduled to begin February 12 on 52 alleys in the huge Convention Hall in Atlantic City, with 8,864 teams being accommodated, incidentally reservations must be filed by November 20, but the final closing of entries will be December 15. Dr. John Sharp, former Oil City resident, is in a serious condition in the Springfield, Ill. hospital with injuries received in an auto accident Monday, his many Warren friends will regret to learn. Civic, religious and fraternal leaders of Punxsutawney Monday night, participate to Congressman Leon H. Gavin, of Oil City, and others who contributed to the present flood control project there, at a dinner attended by approximately 300 people held in the Odd Fellows Hall. Robert Bowman, manager of the Oil City Latonia theater since January 8, 1946, has been transferred to the managerial position of the Warner Theatre in Erie, effective October 22. I'm Glad We're "Different!"

There's a lot of difference of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa, mixed with brome grass—others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a mixture's better than a single crop.

I sometimes think people are the same way—and the strength of America is its mixture of so many different strains—some from one country, some from another—right down to little differences: like folks who have a taste for beer and those who prefer cider.

From where I sit, so long as we never become intolerant of one another's different tastes—so long as we live together with our differences, and even supplement them the way brome grass does alfalfa, then we're a mighty good crop!

So neighbor—enjoy your cider while I enjoy my beer! Vote for your candidate—I'll stand by mine! But never let our differences divide us!

Drastically Re-Styled 1949 Nash About To Be Unveiled

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit—(P)—The drastically re-styled 1949 Nash cars, with front as well as rear wheels enclosed, go on public display tomorrow.

Also drastically changed are the price tags, which go up an average of $275 on the "600" series and $390 on the "Ambassador" models.

Nash describes the new models as so completely changed that all body dies and major assembly line equipment used on the 1948 models had to be scrapped.

Most radical appearance change, of course, results from the enclosing of the front wheels. It gives a straight line, hub cap high, from the rear to the front bumper. This does not hamper full wheel swing on turns because the new fender line is well outside the wheels.

Another departure is the grouping of all instruments in what is called a "uniscop" located on the steering column directly below and in front of the steering wheel.

Nash's "unitized" construction, in which body and frame parts are welded into a single unit, is retained in the new cars. Overall length of both models has been increased slightly but wheelbase remains unchanged. Front seat elbow width has been increased about six inches.

Nash reports that without sacrificing head room or road clearance the new models are lower than previous cars, standing 62 inches high, compared with 68 inches for 1948 models.

A broad low hood and massive front grille, with racing type air scoop, emphasize the generally lowered appearance of the new cars.

The new "Ambassador" model is powered with a six-cylinder, overhead valve, 112 horsepower engine. The "600" has an L-head type, 82 horsepower, six cylinder engine.

Nash claims the "600" will give more than 25 miles to the gallon of gasoline at average highway speeds.

So far this year Nash has built close to 95,000 cars. Barring unforeseen work stoppages its 1948 output probably will top last year's total of 113,315 units. Right now it is about 5,000 units ahead of last year's output to this date.

Most radical appearance change, of course, results from the enclosing of the front wheels. It gives a straight line, hub cap high, from the rear to the front bumper. This does not hamper full wheel swing

Drop Is Shown In Fatalities On Highways

While the first eight months of 1948 show a drop as compared with 1947 in fatal motor vehicle accidents in Pennsylvania by a total of 32, August was by far the highest during the year with a total of 148 "sudden" deaths on the highway, and the highest August since 1941, it has been announced by the Bureau of Highway Safety, in Harrisburg.

With ideal weather and highway conditions, this wanton sacrifice of lives can only be attributed to the reckless, careless and inattentive operators who have no regard for the safety and lives of others, the bureau said. The death toll for August of 1947 was 20 less than August of this year, with this year's increase being entirely in the rural areas. Fifty-one pedestrians paid with their lives during the month.

Multi-fatal accidents showed an increase with nine of this type accounting for 20 deaths as compared to six crashes with 13 deaths in August of 1947.

For these first eight months, Warren and surrounding counties show this record.

HIGHEST RECORDED TEMPERATURE IN THE UNITED STATES WAS AT DEATH VALLEY, CALIFORNIA, JULY 10, 1913 - 134° JUST 2° LOWER THAN THE WORLD RECORD OF 136° AT AZIZIA, LIBYA, NORTH AFRICA, SEPTEMBER 13, 1922

Population Of State Now Is 10,689,000

According to a new estimate by the Bureau of the Census, Pennsylvania has increased its population by 789,000 since April 1, 1940. The total population, excluding Armed Forces overseas, as of July 1, 1948, is now estimated at 10,689,000—an increase of eight per cent in the past eight years.

How great a change this means in the population picture is shown by the fact that in the 10 years between 1930 and 1940 the State's growth was only 268,830—an increase of 2.8 per cent. The remarkable increase since 1940 has many consequences for the people of the state, the State Planning Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce points out.

Since Pennsylvania's growth is largely due to the high birth rate prevailing over the past six years, the increased need for school facilities occasioned by the much larger number of children now approaching school age may make necessary very shortly an increase in the number of teachers in elementary grades. If there is no important outward migration during the next few years, there will eventually result a need for increased accommodations in the high schools and finally in colleges.

Outward migration does not appear to be likely to change Pennsylvania's population picture, or the problems presented by the need of facilities for nearly 10,700,000 people in a state which had only 9,800,000 people in 1940.

More than 15,000 companies are engaged as marketers and jobbers in the U. S. oil industry.

Scores of Proposals Are On Ballots In November Election

(This is one of a number of stories surveying contests and issues—aside from the presidency—which voters will decide November 2.)

Washington—(P)—Voters in 35 states will decide the fate of scores of proposals November 2 besides picking national and state officials.

Louisiana alone has posed 40 constitutional questions. Californians will ballot on 15 proposed amendments to its constitution, one referendum and four initiatives. Alabama and Florida each have 11 constitutional matters up for decision, followed by Texas with eight and Maryland with seven.

An Associated Press survey of the questions and subjects to be submitted to the various electorates show that 12 states will deal with the issue of aid for veterans, eight concern the liquor question and three have controversial amendments touching on labor. Other topics include revision of tax and old age pension systems, bond issues, pay revisions for state legislators and officers, lines of succession for state offices, and voter qualifications.

Of the three states considering labor measures, two—Arizona and Massachusetts—also dealt with the subject in the 1946 election. At that time, Arizona adopted a constitutional amendment to outlaw closed shops; so did Nebraska and South Dakota. Arizonians are being asked by referendum this year to approve legislation to put the ban into effect.

Massachusetts voters have three referendums on the ballot. One—a "right-to-work" measure—would prohibit agreements which exclude any person from employment because of membership in a labor union. Another would require that labor union officers be elected by secret ballot at least once a year. The third would prohibit all strikes except those voted by a majority of the union's membership.

Two years ago, Bay State voters approved a proposal requiring labor unions to publish financial reports.

In New Mexico, voters will be asked to ballot on an "open shop" amendment which would prohibit denying employment to any person because of membership in, resignation or expulsion from a labor organization, or refusal to join a union. Like the Massachusetts proposal, it also would forbid agreements to exclude any person from employment because of union membership or non-membership.

Prior to 1946 only two states, Florida and Arkansas, had adopted anti-closed shop amendments to their constitutions. Under a closed shop all workers in a plant must belong to a union or lose their jobs.

Potato Crop To Set All-Time Record

Harrisburg—(P)—Pennsylvania's potato and tobacco crops have joined with corn in becoming bumper crops this year.

The state agriculture department said the potato crop set a new all-time high average yield of 185 bushels per acre. Tobacco production, meanwhile, became the second highest ever known in the state.

But apple, pear and buckwheat estimates were forced down by bad weather during September, the department said in a federal-state survey. The grape crop, however, will be better than average.

Meanwhile, the department said recent heavy rainfalls ended drought conditions on Keystone State farms. The rainfall averaged more than three times the normal half inch for the state.

South and central counties reported three inches of rain in the week ended Tuesday with over four inches in the Chambersburg areas.

The department reported rains were sufficient throughout the state to permit easy plowing for winter grains according to the final Federal-State Weather and Crop summary for the 1948 growing season.

The total potato crop estimate is now 20,165,000 bushels, an advance of 1,090,000 over Sept. 1 and more than 2,000,000 over last year grown on the same acreage.

The 1948 tobacco crop is now estimated at 61,585,000 pounds, an increase of 1,900,000 over Sept. 1. It is the largest since 1920 and 3,000,000 pounds over the 1947 crop.

The Pennsylvania corn crop of 65,320,000 bushels is the fifth largest in the state's history.

Dry weather in September prevented apples from attaining their usual size and are now at 4,746,000 bushels, 565,000 less than indicated on Sept. 1 and nearly 2,000,000 under 1947.

DAN PATCH'S PACING RECORD STILL STANDS

Lexington, Ky.—(NEA)—The management of the famous Lexington Trots wound up its 10-day session with one of its top trophies still unclaimed. It is the Dan Patch Trophy offered as the silverware prize in a two-mile pace aimed at lowering Dan Patch's world record of 4:17 established in 1903. The trophy went unclaimed when no entries were received for the proposed shot at the mark, the only record still held by the old-time pacing great.

Chinese Travel Agent Takes Look At America On Vacation

New York—(P)—What does a travel agent do on vacation? Why, he travels.

And so, after 26 years of telling other people where to go and what to see, Norman L. Chinohoy came to the United States to see for himself what we had here.

Chinohoy is really a product of the mysterious east. He is a Chinese who was born in Australia, speaks Spanish, carries a British passport, and earns his living as a travel agent for the Peruvian International Airways in Lima. This accounts for every continent except Africa.

Concluding a six-week, coast-to-coast visit—not a Cook's tour—Chinohoy put his general impression of the United States in two polite words:

"It's good."

With oriental caution he qualified this endorsement by adding:

"The people are too commercialized."

But he thought the North Americans must also be very honest, as he saw few policemen around.

"In Peru there are many policemen—very many," he said gravely.

Chinohoy, a slim, pleasant man of 52, flew from Peru to Washington. He managed to pass through the nation's capital without being tagged with either a Dewey or a Truman button, and visited California before coming here.

He said there was one nice thing about his trip to New York City. It convinced him he liked San Francisco better.

"Too much rush here," he said. His other complaint against Manhattan:

"Too many Chinese laundries. Too many Chinese restaurants."

In South America, he explained, the Chinese mix more with the general population and hold a greater variety of jobs.

"The Chinese here make more money, but they spend more. Their level of living is about the same as it is in Peru."

For more than a quarter century Chinohoy has specialized in arranging trips back to their homeland for the 11,000 Chinese who live in Lima.

The post-war inflation has knocked him out of one profitable source of business. In the old days Chinese families often escorted the bones of dead members back to Canton, where they could rest in calm with their hallowed ancestors.

"But not anymore," said Chinohoy sadly. "It costs too much."

Few of the 500 persons for whom he acts each year take anything with them to China. But they return laden with chinaware, silks and Chinese tea.

A big problem is the difference in value between Peruvian and Chinese currencies. One Lima resident carried back $30,000 in his sleeve to show the folks in Canton province how a local boy had made good in South America in a big way.

But unfeeling customs guards relieved him of his fortune at the port of entry, and left him with the feeling he didn't have a Chinaman's chance in his own land.

Chinohoy said he is now selling more round trip tickets than he used to.

"Many who go over to stay come right back," he said.

"They don't like Chinese customs in China. They say they like Chinese customs in Peru better."

Chinohoy himself is a hard man to overwhelm with a tourist vista. He was less enthusiastic than the average travel folder about Manhattan's famous skyline. Of its skyscrapers he said non-committally:

"Monumental. Monumental."

But he left a distinct impression he had no desire to buy one.

Colorado has the highest average elevation of any state in the Union—8800 feet.

Penn State Is Grooming For Michigan

State College, Oct. 20—(P)—The football warriors of Penn State whooped it up on the practice field today anxious to show the skeptics that their team is a topflight outfit because it's good and not because it plays a light schedule.

They'll get their chance Saturday when Penn State's Nittany Lions run up against twice-beaten but tough Michigan state.

Penn State, rated one of the four top teams in the east but second to some degree because its opposition to date has come from Bucknell, Syracuse and West Virginia, has not lost in its last 13 games.

And that string includes only one tie—a 13-13 deadlock against Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Nittany Lions, top defensive team in the nation last year, lost heavily in first string line strength, but appear just as powerful—if not more so—in the backfield.

Wally Triplett, speedy negro wingback from Cheltenham, is considered by Penn Scout Jim Chandler "the best broken field runner since Glenn Davis." That's high tribute.

In addition, Elwood Petchel, bantam 140-pounder from Easton, has been giving fits to the opposition. Petchel, a scabbard and aerial specialist, teams with Triplett in giving Penn State one of the best one-two offenses in the east.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETITE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour checks (plate odor (denture breath)). Get PASTETITE at any drug store.

Donora Has Great Number Star Athletes

Donora, Oct. 20—(P)—A sign welcoming visitors to this mill-town of 13,000 says:

"The best town in the United States—next to yours."

And in production of athletes this claim may be more than a proud chamber of commerce boast.

Currently, Donora has so many active gridiron heroes it doesn't know what to do about rooting 'em all home to victory.

For example take this lineup: Ends—Nick Derosa and William Famm, Pitt, Andy Lelik, Penn Froese.

Tackles—Carl Pell, Columbia; Edwin Duda, Washington and Jefferson.

Guards—Jack Jaso, Cornell; Thomas Ballaban, Xavier (Cincinnati), Alex Strum, Grove City; Thomas Budjak, Wash-Jeff.

Centers—Shurt a couple of the linemen listed.

Backs—Arnold Galiffa, Army; Deacon Dan Towler, Wash-Jeff; Louis (Bumbo) Cecconi, Pitt; Pete Cicconi, Wake Forest; Frank Miklos, Harvard; Frank Bolek, Waynesburg.

All these boys claim Donora as their home town.

Galiffa, Army's great field general and Towler the nation's leading college scorer are the brightest offensive lights but the other lads are highly rated in their various chores.

Donora's amazing athletic prominence is not limited to football. Stan (The Man) Musial hails from there. He's Mr. Baseball or a reasonable facsimile. Then there's Lammin Lee Sala, an undefeated middleweight battler of sorts.

Mary Louise Blair September Bride Of R. L. Peterson

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blair, 335 North Main street, Clarendon, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Richard Lavern Peterson, son of Mrs. I. E. Peterson, 321 Park street, Warren, in a late summer ceremony performed at 2:30 p. m. September 25 in Clarendon Evangelical United Brethren church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. H. Stang, Beaver Falls, with Rev. C. C. Van, pastor, assisting. Altar decorations were carried out with candelabra and ferns, flanked by baskets of mixed glads. White satin ribbons marked the pews and a runner extended across the front of the altar and down the center aisle.

The pianist, Walter Whaley, played "Always" and "O Promise Me", also the accompaniment for Gladys Jensen, who sang "Because", "I Love You truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was gowned in white slipper satin, styled with train, and seed pearl accents in the marquise yoke. Sleeves were long and tapered over the hands. Her veil was of illusion net, falling from a scalloped crown of seed pearls, and her pearl necklace was the bridegroom's gift.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Robert Jordan, Youngville, as matron of honor; Fatty Elaine Fox as flower girl, and the bridesmaids: Donna Mae Lane, Clarendon; Shirley Jean Stang, Beaver Falls, and Barbara Nesbith.

Mrs. Jordan wore yellow marquisette; Miss Lane, yellow dotted swiss; Miss Stang, blue faille; Miss Nesbith, blue taffeta, and the little flower girl was in yellow taffeta, with a pink rose and pom-pom headband and basket of flowers. The other attendants carried arm bouquets of yellow glads and blue delphinium, with pom-pom and delphinium headbands.

Lawrence Blair was best man for Mr. Peterson and ushers were Donald Guher, Geary Mead of Clarendon and Robert Jordan of Youngville.

The bride's mother wore a black suit-dress, with black and gold accessories and Talisman rose corsage, while Mrs. Peterson wore a black and white print, black and white accessories and yellow rose corsage.

The reception for 100 guests followed immediately in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table was flanked by bridesmaids' bouquets and was served by Mrs. Raymond Kittner. A second table was centered with blue and yellow bachelor buttons, and crystal candelabra holding white tapers, with myrtle wreathed at the base of each. Presiding were Mrs. Bert Amsdell, Jamestown, N. Y., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Henry Huber, Chambersburg, aunt of the bridegroom.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Pratt, Mrs. Alma Bayharts, daughter, Maryann, and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jensen, Erie; Mrs. Richard Fish, Union City; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flick and daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Bert Amsdell; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huber, Chambersburg; Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Stang and daughters, Shirley, Jean and Dayle, Beaver Falls; Mrs. A. G. Meade, Johnstown; Mrs. Kenneth Kittner, Sandra and David Kittner, Rouseville.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the newlyweds are at home to friends in Clarendon. For travel, the bride chose a beige suit, with dark brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Both young people are graduates of the local high school, the bride in 1947; the bridegroom, two years earlier. She is employed as a Bell Telephone operator and he is employed by the United Refining Company.

Warren Players' Membership List At All-time High

David A. Smith, Jr., Warren Players' campaign chairman, in submitting his final report on the 1948 membership drive, indicates Players not only surpassed their quota of 800 members but brought the roster to an all-time high of 994.

This figure includes 42 life memberships that were presented to those members serving in the armed forces during the last war.

For this increase of 76% over last year's roster, Mr. Smith is high in his praise for the workers who made this outstanding record possible. These enthusiastic workers were organized under the following team captains: Sylvester Mullen, Bea Trax, Joan Lavery, Betty Forsgren, Sylvia Lucia and Audrey Cramer, who deserve an extra "curtain call" for outstanding performance.

In addition to these captains, much credit is due the following who served as the general campaign committee: Fred Emhardt, Ned Shulman, Louise Neely, Myrna Hoagvall and Bea Trax. Others deserving special mention for their efforts are Ann Hultberg, who arranged the kick-off party, and Margaret Wright for individual sales.

Organized in 1930 with 17 charter members, the Warren Players has continued without interruption even through the difficult war years, and today, with nearly a thousand members, is truly a community theatre.

With 215 of its members signed as active, the Warren Players is assured of a really outstanding season.

While the curtain has rung down on its campaign, memberships in Warren Players are always available by obtaining an application blank from The Warren Players, Box 563, Warren, Pa. Although one show has already been presented, the cost of membership remains less than the cost of single admissions for the remaining three public shows, not to mention the privilege of attending Players' fascinating studio production.

pretty three o'clock wedding which

Announcement Of Jaycee Auxiliary Slate of Officers

At the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, held at the YMCA, President Jean Nelson opened the meeting with announcement of the following officers elected at the last board of directors meeting:

President, Jean Nelson; first vice president, Marie Fino; second vice president, Phyllis Davis; recording secretary, Dee Newman; corresponding secretary, Gloria Johnson; treasurer, Kay Lucia. Other board directors are Anne Blackman, Fatty Lundahl, and Sylvia Farnen, who replaces Florence English, resigned.

The Jaycees asked the Auxiliary to provide ushers for the "Trieste" Trio concert and a number of members volunteered for this task.

It was planned to have a Halloween dance at the Town Barn on Thursday, October 23, from eight until midnight for Jaycees and their ladies. All couples are asked to come in costume, since prizes will be awarded for the most original, funniest, etc.

It was also reported that the Auxiliary hold a Christmas party or children of members, to be held the Saturday prior to the holiday. More definite plans will be made at the next meeting. The women are also making plans for a bake and rummage sale to be events of the near future.

Charles Tranter, president of the Jaycees, received a letter from Warren E. Marshall, president of the Erie Chapter, asking for assistance in organizing an auxiliary. The Warren Chapter was very pleased to have a city as large as Erie call on it for help.

At the close of the business meeting, Anne Blackman's committee served light refreshments from a table appropriately decorated for the Halloween season.

All Jaycee wives are asked to join the Auxiliary, whose purpose is to better the community in every way possible and give its aid in all civic projects. It is hoped for a large attendance at the next meeting, which will be held the third Monday of the month.

INTERESTING PICTURE AT FIRST LUTHERAN

The motion picture "Salt of the Earth", which was produced by the United Lutheran Church in America for use in more than 4,000 congregations will be shown in the First Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7:30. The film was made by Cathedral Films and tells a story of Christian faith and stewardship. The setting for the picture is among the anthracite coal regions of eastern Pennsylvania. It is an exceptionally fine story of the people of a mine town and their church life.

Each year the Laymen Movement for Stewardship of the United Lutheran Church produces a film for use in the congregations. The picture for this year surpasses the excellent one made available in 1947. Members of the local congregation urge interested friends to join with them in seeing "Salt of the Earth".

CONCERT TONIGHT BEGINS AT EIGHT

Ticket holders to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Music Series are reminded that the concert tonight by the Trieste Trio begins at eight o'clock instead of 8:30. This is being done to allow more time for the musicians to make train connections tonight for their next destination in Hagerstown, Maryland.

Tonight's concert in the Woman's Club is open only to those persons holding season tickets. There are no seats available at the door and the house is a complete sellout. No seats are reserved and the doors open at seven o'clock.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Since there is always much sewing and mending at Warren General Hospital at this time of year, it is hoped there will be a large attendance for the work-meeting of the Women's Auxiliary at 1:30 p. m. Friday in the nurses' home. All interested women are invited to join with the members in this project.

FINAL AUDITIONS FOR BOY CHOIR

The United States has more than three times as many Indians as Canada.

Still Dusting

Down near the bottom of the heap we have been describing all week, we find a couple of choice items we gleaned earlier from the pages of the High School Dragonette. Editor in chief for the 1948-49 Dragon will be Dick Hamilton. Nick Mangus has been chosen business manager and Wendell Peterson has been appointed photographer. For the first time in history, the work on the Dragon is being done in a class, meeting fourth period every day under the direction of Christine Hurd. Mary Louise Anderson, Elizabeth Dunham, Barbara Nesbeth, Jean O'Connor, Mildred Pesko, Emma Lou and Nancy Lee Plummer, Nancy Whipple, Ross Fisher, Charles Hutchings and David Milenius are members of the class.

Also from the Dragonette, we learn that the Dramatic Club is getting its affairs under way for the new school term and officers have been elected. Don Wood has been named president to succeed Dick Hamilton, who is already the Dragon editor and cannot hold two such posts. Nell DoStefano is vice president; Ruth Davis, secretary, and Mary Louise Anderson, treasurer. Meetings are held in the high school auditorium once a month, when a chosen group of members provides an entertaining program. The club is responsible for many assemblies and, under the direction of Kathryn Martin, presents a series of one-act productions for the annual Evening of Plays.

It is further stated that "The Good Earth", starring Paul Muni and Louise Rainer and made for commercial theatres some years ago from Pearl Buck's novel, will be shown to the English classes on Thursday, November 18.

DR. CHAS. DICKINSON

Kane, Oct. 21.—Dr. Charles A. Dickinson, 68, who maintained dental offices in Kane 40 years and was active in his profession until a few weeks ago, succumbed unexpectedly Tuesday night at the Elk County General Hospital in Ridgway, where he apparently was making rapid recovery following major surgery for an organic condition which became serious only recently.

He was a member of the Kane Lodge No. 556, F. & A. M. and of the Knights Templar in Bradford.

He had been honored by the Masonic organization for meritorious service. Also he was a life member of the Kane Lodge of Elks and of the American, state and district dental societies.

The dentist was born at Sheffield and attended schools at that place, later studying at Allegheny College at Meadville and the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Shortly after receiving his degree, he was married to Miss Sara Best at Knox, and the couple came to Kane to make their home.

He leaves his wife, a daughter, Mrs. R. Fairchild, of Philadelphia, and one son, Charles A. Dickinson, Jr., of New Castle. A sister, Mrs. Fred Stover of Rocky River, O., and a brother, Fred J. Dickinson of New York, also survive. One son, Frederick Dickinson, preceded him in death a few years ago.

Last rites will be held in the residence at 300 p. m. Friday. Interment will be in the family burial plot at the Knox cemetery. Masonic rites will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday evening at the residence.

OSCAR M. KRATZER

Word has been received here that Oscar M. Kratzer, former local resident, died at 1 p. m., Wednesday at his home, 12213 Buckingham street, Cleveland, O. He was born in Erie, Pa., and came to Erie, Pa., 76 years ago and was the last survivor of the family of Paul and Katherine Kratzer. His father was associated with various oil interests and owned a home on Poplar street, this city.

Oscar Kratzer left here in 1910, joining his brother, Allen, in Montgomery, Ala., and operating an ice cream company there. Allen preceded him in death, as did a sister, Thelma, formerly of Warren. Since his retirement about five years ago, he had resided in Cleveland.

Besides his wife, Sara Marsh Kratzer, he leaves several nieces and nephews.

The body will be brought to Warren on Friday, with removal to the chapel in Oakland cemetery. Friends will be received there from two until three o'clock, when a committal service will be conducted.

(Oil City papers please copy).

ALFRED M. GATES

D. 3, Warren, retired New York Central trainman, who died Monday morning at the Warren General Hospital, were held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Lutz Funeral Home, with the Rev. Robert Stoen, D. D., of the First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Interment was made in the Erie cemetery, Erie, with the Masonic committal service being conducted by Alfred Ellis, Paul Best and Harvey L. Gallen of the Lawrence Lodge of Erie, and Edward G. Schroeder of the Keystone Lodge of Erie. The Silver Chord Lodge No. 651 of Cleveland.

FRANK H. NORRIS

Old friends here will read with interest the following taken from the October 13th issue of the Daily News at Robinson, Ill.:

Frank H. Norris, 83 of this city, prominent retired manufacturer of oil well supplies and senior member of the firm of Norris Brothers Inc., until his retirement from active administration in 1936, died at the Maple Grove Home in Mt. Carmel Tuesday afternoon after a lingering illness of several years.

Mr. Norris came to Robinson in 1906 early in the oil boom in Crawford County and with his brother, Dan E. Norris formed the partnership of Norris Brothers. The firm at first devoted their time to the repair of oil well equipment and later entered into the field of the manufacture of oil well equipment. Their famous trade mark of "Nor-Bro" on Ball and Seats and pumping jacks have been shipped to oil fields throughout the world.

In 1921, the firm was incorporated as Norris Brothers Inc. and continued to operate in this city under the active management of Dan E. Norris and his son Paul Norris.

Following the late Mr. Norris' retirement he disposed of all his entire block of stock in the firm to his brother early in the 1940's. Mr. and Mrs. Norris were both active in the social and religious life of Robinson until ill health no longer permitted. The couple would have celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary on December 15th of this year.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Mills Funeral Home with the Rev. W. M. Brown in charge. Burial will be made in the New cemetery.

He is survived by his wife,

Blanche, a son, Jack, of Indianapolis, two brothers, Dan E. of this city and R. W. Norris, Sr., of Warren, Pa., and two grandchildren. Two brothers and a sister preceded him in death.

HOMER L. MILLER

Services were held this afternoon at Greensburg in memory of Homer L. Miller, former Warren resident, who died suddenly at his home there earlier in the week. The body is to be brought to the Lutz funeral home tomorrow, where services will be held Sunday afternoon at an hour to be announced Friday.

Broadcast Of Gas Incident Is Televised

The dramatization of Warren's near gas-disaster on CBS' "We, the People" program in New York Tuesday night was not only broadcast over a nationwide hookup, but also was carried over the television network.

This was disclosed today when the four local residents who participated in the program returned home from an all-expense-paid jaunt to New York. The four were Lowell (Mac) McCann, partner in Mostert's Bakery, whose quick thinking in spreading the alarm, is credited with saving many lives; Fire Chief C. A. Albaugh; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, who were nearly overcome when gas filled their apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis returned from New York by plane and were met at the Erie airport last night by Delbert Lewis.

Albaugh and McCann stayed over in New York for another day for a "Cook's tour" of Gotham, under the personal supervision of two former Warren residents Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Knapp. Mr. Knapp is purchasing agent for the Tudor city apartments in New York. It was the first trip to New York for both Albaugh and McCann, and both reported they had the thrill of their lives in taking part in the broadcast, and also thoroughly enjoyed the sightseeing.

The pre-physical examinations started on Oct. 11 in Pennsylvania and local boards now are starting to get the results. Gross said they are now preparing to turn out the cards modifying registrants to report for induction late next month.

Gross recalled that six times as many registrants as the first call requires have been sent to the induction centers for the first examination. This was done, he explained, because even of those who pass probably half will not be ordered up because of deferment.

KLM said the probable cause of the accident was bad weather and low clouds.

The disaster was one of the worst in Britain's civil aviation history. Thirty-nine persons were killed last July 4 when an R. A. F. York Transport plane coincided with a Swedish airliner over London.

Frances Kushner,
Joseph Rafalski
Wed October 9th

White pompoms and candelabra holding lighted tapers formed a temple altar decoration in St. Luke's church at Irvine at 10 a. m. Saturday, October 9, when Father E. J. Jacobs united in marriage Frances Kushner, Irvine, and Joseph Rafalski, Jr., of Pittsfield. Rose Marie Manzo was at the organ for traditional nuptial selections and as accompanist for a group of girls from St. Joseph's choir, Warren, who sang "Ave Maria", "Missa de Angelis". The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Martin Rejzer. Her gown was of white satin trimmed with lace, full sleeves coming to points over the wrists, and a full looped skirt. Her bridal veil of illusion net fell fingertip length from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses showered with streamers of white satin ribbon. Miss Isabel Yucha, of Cambridge Springs, was maid of honor. Her gown of blue was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder yoke of net and her lace mitts and sweetheart hat were of the same shade. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses. The bridesmaid was Florence Rejzer, cousin of the bride, who wore a pink gown and hat and carried pink roses in a colonial bouquet. Little Joanne Sobek, Pittsfield, as flower girl for her aunt, wore a white frock trimmed with ruffled lace and carried a small colonial bouquet of white roses. Herbert Rafalski was his brother's best man and the usher was Steve Nezmik. Both the mothers were attired in black, with matching accessories and corsages of red roses. A reception for 125 guests followed at the PNA hall in Pittsfield, where a three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table, and music was furnished for dancing. Attending the wedding and reception from away were Mr. and

Blue Stockings Enjoy Gathering At Birdsall Edey

Blue Stocking Club members journeyed to Girl Scout Camp Birdsall Edey on Tuesday for a box luncheon-meeting. About 25 members and guests arrived at one o'clock and were greeted by the committee on arrangements, Mrs. Vance Weld, Mrs. R. L. Blodgett and Mrs. E. E. Koebley. They had arrived earlier and provided a cheerful fire which was later surrounded by the group for enjoyment of the lunch each had brought, with delicious coffee and ice cream provided by the committee.

After the luncheon, the regular business session was conducted by Mrs. Weld, who called on the various officers to present their reports.

Mrs. Koebley, program chairman, introduced the speakers of the afternoon. They were Mrs. Arthur Coderholm, camp chairman, who gave a comprehensive survey of the various activities and programs of the Girl Scouts; and Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, who gave an interesting resume of the Girl Scout movement from its inception to the present.

To conclude, Miss Ethel Morris gave a report on legislative matters.

The next meeting will be held November 2, with Mrs. Harriett Wilkins and Mrs. J. E. Hill as hostesses.

Chapter 9
A HALF-STORY rudder of tin proclaimed in blue and white: J. A. GILBERT REALTOR.
"That's it," announced the girl. Walter James wheeled the car in a U turn and pulled it up in front of the office. A flagged walk ran past the corner building to the back of the lot where another white stucco building huddled ineffectively behind two skeletal palms. "My home," said Laura Gilbert flatly.
Walter James snapped off the lights. "What's that big job across the street?"
"Hoover High. I used to go there. The college is about five miles on out." She giggled her fingers east toward the Laguna mountains and El Centro and Yuma.
"Studying to be anything?"
"No. What is there to be?"
"You're bitter—even for three A.M."
"I mean it," the girl said, looking straight ahead. "I want to be something but I don't know what."
"It's not uncommon," he agreed. "How about getting married?"
"Most of the girls are looking high and low for husbands. I've never seen a husband I wanted. Bob," she said, and stopped short to regard him curiously. "You know your business, don't you?"
Walter James laughed. "Really, I didn't mean it as business. I'm interested."
"Why? Never mind. Bob Newcomb is editor of The Aztec—that's the college paper—and I work on The Aztec quite a bit. He's a very sweet boy with what's known as a fine mind. He has an odd taste for taking me to dances. Why, I don't know because frankly I don't dance very well."
A light came on in the house, an orange rectangle that silhouetted one slim palm tree. "It is pretty late," said the girl. "You

"I'll see you at six then," he said.
As they set foot on the small cement porch, the door opened, letting out a trickle of radio music. A tall spare man in a dressing gown stood in the light. "Laura!" he said.
"Good morning, Dad," she answered. "Your daughter got in a little trouble tonight."
The tall man held the screen door open.
"Dad, this is Mr. James. Mr. James, my father."
"Your daughter wasn't personally involved in any trouble, Mr. Gilbert," explained Walter James. "She just happened to be the only witness to an odd happening."
"And Mr. James was kind enough to bring me home from the police station."
"It's pretty late, Laura," said Mr. Gilbert. He said the words disinterestedly, almost perfunctorily. Walter James looked at him sharply.
"Dad, the police work all night," the girl explained with elaborate patience. She added, "Mr. James is a detective."
The old man regarded Walter James more closely. "I'd ask you in, Mr. James, but you can understand—at this hour."
"Naturally," said Walter James. "I'll see you again."
Walter James drove slowly down the deserted boulevard. Once in his apartment, he turned the lock and hung his coat carefully in the closet. Then he sat down at the desk and took off his tie. His fountain pen scratched out three names on a piece of paper.
Laura Gilbert.
Shasta Lynn.
Ethel Lantz.
Suddenly, he crossed bold lines through the outside names and sat looking at the remaining two words. He lit a cigarette and puffed a cloud of smoke over the one last name. The cloud swirled a moment and melted away into the shadows of the room.
Shasta Lynn.

Chapter 10
AT precisely eleven o'clock, Walter James pushed his slim hand against AUSTIN CLAPP HOMICIDE and sauntered into the small office. Clapp was snuggled a telephone receiver against his head.
"—guilty as all out. But it'll take time. Bye." He cradled the receiver and grinned broadly. "Just talking about you, James. Have part of a chair."
Walter James sat on the corner of the desk with one foot on the floor and lit a cigarette.
"Did you get all your wires off to Atlanta and Denver?" the slender man asked.
Clapp squinted curiously. "Yes. What makes you so sure I wired Denver?"
"You're no fool, Clapp," Walter James announced indulgently. "You figure that if my partner was following a lead to San Diego while on a trip to Denver, he might very well have had some ideas about Denver, too."
" weren't you interested in Denver?"
"My lead was in San Diego. Also, I have a saving nature. I'll let you send all the long and involved telegrams to the Denver authorities and charge it to the San Diego taxpayers."
Clapp leaned forward and thumped his big fingers on the green blotter. "I checked with Jim Crane. You know, he inventoried the audience last night. He says there were quite a few drunks but no one was reeled up."
"Any ex-Atlanta citizens drifted in here lately?"
"No. Not with guns on them at any rate," Clapp snorted. "You don't know our town very well. We got a tourist trade to keep up and they're not the kind that go for that sort of thing."
"Any of your local boys play with 45's?"
"No. And for the same reason. We don't have much of any gang trouble down here, James."

The two men looked at each other sardonically. Walter James spoke first.
"I don't forget one main point. I'm not but here to mess up your neat little town. And I'm not out here to clean it up, either. My business is to get within tagging distance of the man who gunned out my partner."
"Because you were good friends with this Lantz or because his murder was a reflection on you?"
"If I answer that, can we get down to cases?"
"Okay."
"It's fifty-fifty. Now what's the deal on that theater manager?"
Clapp yawned and tapped his front teeth with his knuckle. "Greas is always willing to cooperate with the authorities. Consequently, he doesn't know anything. None of his boys and girls smoke reefers or do anything nasty."
"Do you clear the whole cast?" Walter James asked.
"I never clear anybody till they die," remarked Clapp. "You're thinking of the Lynn wench, aren't you?"
"She has the strongest connection with the Filipino. The Filipino has the strongest connection with Dr. Boone. And whoever Dr. Boone is, I want to talk with him. What did you think of Shasta Lynn?"
"Little dignified for a dancer."
"What did you think of the alibi of Shasta's little friend?"
"Madeline? It seemed to be all right, though I wouldn't trust either one of them as far as I could swing the Colorado ferry."
Walter James broke into a fresh pack of cigarettes, slicing off the top neatly with his fingernail. "Do either of the girls smoke what we hope they smoke?"
Clapp shrugged. "You want to ask them?"
Walter James smiled. "It's a ticklish question to ask when you haven't anything to go on and when you're on the city payroll."
"You're not kidding," said Clapp.

"I almost got my face slapped a couple of times last night."
He reached under his blotter and pulled out a mimeographed form. "You're probably interested in the lab check we ran on the .25 that shot at you."
"Didn't know you'd have it this early. Did you get enough dirt out of the gun to give you anything to work with?" Walter James scanned the report thoughtfully.
"This will floor you, son. Face powder. Cheap face powder."
The slender detective frowned. "Well, well, well."
"I know what you're thinking and I've done it," said Clapp. "It isn't any face powder that Shasta Lynn has in her dressing room—she uses pretty expensive stuff. But it could be her body powder. The tests run pretty close. But then again it could be practically any dime store brand. It's an interesting discovery but not very conclusive."
"I'd like my .38 back and a license to carry it around here."
"Not a chance, James. It'd make me look pretty silly if you do turn out to be a mass murderer and I've given you a gun license. No, thanks."
"That's all right," said Walter James. "I got plenty of others. But I don't want to be picked up for carrying any one of them."
"You won't be as long as you don't make it go bang. And if any self-defense matters pop up, you better have a witness, James. And it better be me."
Walter James slid to the floor. "You'll call me?"
"Or send a squad after you. All depends on how my dinner sets."
"See you soon."
Out in the fresh air, Walter James took his hand out of his trouser pocket and looked at the small square of dirty white there. It read:

Peace With Russia Subject Of Truman Talk to Legion

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(P)—Can there be peace with Russia? That's the No. 1 problem of our time, President Truman told the American Legion at Miami yesterday.

Between the Communist revolution of 1917 and World War II Russian Communism stayed within the borders of the Soviet Union. The Communists under Stalin here thought it smarter to build up their strength at home before they tried any adventures elsewhere.

But while the Russian Communists stayed inside Russia, the United States and the rest of Europe could go on doing business among themselves and even trade with Russia.

The picture changed after the war. There was no country on the continent of Europe which the Russians had to fear.

They began to put on pressure. Almost all the countries of eastern Europe fell under Russian control, run by their own Communists.

And the Communists in the western democracies of Europe tried to win power, too.

But where does this stop, if the United States is going to survive? Suppose, then, that without that aid western Europe collapsed, revolutions followed and the Communists took over.

That would mean an all-Communist Europe.

But would the Communists stop there? Why should they? Taking over Africa then would be easy for them.

And if we withdrew into true isolation, it would mean stopping aid for China and Japan. That would leave all Asia open to the Communists.

The next step—through uprisings of the local Communist parties—would be Latin America. That would make us and Canada two little islands of capitalism in a completely Communist world.

Do you think we'd survive long

Grouse Championships Will Be Staged At Marienville

Marienville has been selected as the site of the 1948 meeting and trials of the Grand National Grouse Championship, Inc., to be held from November 11 to 14.

The event, termed by many as the outstanding outdoor sports program of the season, is expected to attract thousands to the Forest county community.

Headquarters for the activities will be located in the Bucktail hotel where the annual meeting will be held at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, November 13.

The grouse trial grounds will be the Allegheny National Forest course. Dogs will compete for a $500 purse, leg on the Grouse Bowl and the Grouse Pin cast in gold.

Judges for the event will be: William T. McMarty, Ford City; Dr. C. W. Harrigan, Millinocket, Me., and E. S. Blodgett, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Highlights of the four day session are as follows:

November 11—Introduction of

—at least in the form we have now—that way?

With that in mind, how do we work out peace?

From the beginning Russia has distrusted the western world because it looks upon Communism and capitalism as mortal enemies. And Lenin, who set up Communism in Russia, taught that capitalism can't be wiped out except by world revolution.

If the capitalistic democracies, through U. S. help, grow strong again in western Europe—and particularly if they keep western Germany under their wing—Russia knows they are always potential allies of the U. S. in any war with Russia.

And Russia, whose philosophy is to wipe out capitalism, fears the danger of war from strong capitalistic countries if a crisis arises in the future.

All this doesn't mean Russia wants to go to war now. Time is on her side, the Communists think. They are banking on a world depression to set off collapses and revolutions and win for her easily what she might not be able to win in a shooting war now.

Meanwhile, within every country, the local Communist parties will be trying to push for revolution.

Early October Rains Repair Drought Loss

Although the month of September was the driest since 1943 and the fourth driest on record for the State as a whole, corn, potatoes and other late field crops matured rapidly on Pennsylvania farms and harvesting was well advanced by October 1, the State Department of Agriculture reports following Federal-State surveys the first of the month.

Most severe drought blow to farmers in many areas of the State was the dry condition of the soil which was not favorable for fall plowing, field preparation and seeding of winter grains. During the first week of October, however, rains that were three times normal brought soils back to condition.

Corn, Potato and tobacco crops are of bumper proportions this year. Corn is averaging a yield of 46 bushels per acre for the State as a whole, potatoes average 185 bushels per acre, a new high record for Pennsylvania, and tobacco at 1,600 pounds per acre is within 30 pounds of the all-time record set in 1941.

Milk and egg production showed seasonal declines in September. The dry weather spoiled pastures and many farmers on October 1 were feeding hay, grain and ensilage.

September weather favored early maturity of the corn crop. Some ears are not filled to the ends but there is little soft corn this season. Ensilage harvesters were used by many farmers this year to fill silos. Potato digging was still under way on October 1, in commercial areas with many high yields and very little rot reported.

The oats crop was excellent this year, the survey reveals. All had been harvested but not all was threshed by the first of this month. Soybeans matured rapidly in September but by the end of the month only a few fields had been combined. Dry weather lowered yields per acre.

Consumer Again Getting A Break On Prices of Food

By The Associated Press
The consumer is getting a break on food prices for the second consecutive week.
Food indexes which declined a week ago showed no inclination to rise this week. And from various sectors of the food industry come indications that the peak may have been seen at least for the time being.
Your grocer is watching your food bills as closely as you are.

And right now he is thinking in terms of encouraging you to buy more food to keep his total sales volume high.
It may seem to cost more than ever to feed your family. But the American Institute of Food Distribution says average retail prices of cost of living foods are getting down to within 3 or 4 percent of a year ago. This compares with a spread of 12 percent on July 15.

Meat is the most noticeable item on which prices have declined. The American Meat Institute in Chicago said they have dropped 1 percent in the past several weeks. With the drop consumers have been increasing their buying.

In Boston Malcolm McCabe, secretary of the Massachusetts Grocers and Provision Dealers Association, said those lower prices would last for at least 60 days unless the run of range cattle has been diverted.

Butler has moved down, too. From an average of around 86 cents a pound retail in New York stores in July, it has slipped to about 73 cents.

Another food that has dropped sharply is onions. Because of abundant supply, 50 pound sacks which sold for $4.50 in the Chicago market early this year now are costing only $1.35 to $1.50.

The president of Jewell Tea Co., retail food chain, told the annual meeting of the National Association of Food Chains in Chicago this week that in his opinion "food prices have passed their peak."

With Thanksgiving in the offing, housewives are asked this week to consider the versatility of the cranberry. It is National Cranberry Week and the "Federation of Cranberry and Chicken Fanciers" says it's high time the eating public learned that cranberries are just as good with chicken as with turkey.

Besides that, the federation says, farmers are raising more chickens than ever before, because of the still high cost of meat. Americans are eating more chickens, and authorities on etiquette approve of the chicken-cranberry combination.

The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week held at the $6.48 level of a week ago. It compares with $6.90 a year ago. The food price index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound of each of 31 foods in general use.

That research organization further states that on Oct. 13 the wholesale price of most staples was 5.4 percent under the same date a year ago.

The Associated Press food index dipped slightly this week to 145.63 from 145.81 a week ago, but livestock rose from 239.12 a week ago to 247.43 this week. The base year 1926 equals 100.

LIKE TO FEEL THIS UNDER YOUR TOE?

Step out with Brand-New Fireball Power in your old Buick

THIS is a brand-new Buick engine. It's fresh from the factory—straight from the same assembly line where the engines in 1948 Buick cars are built.

If you'd like to boss it around—mister, that's easy, if you have any Buick built since 1937.

All we need to do is take out your old engine—and put this one in.

Then you can feel the thrill of a brand-new Fireball engine. You can enjoy all the pep, power and performance that you'd get if you had a 1948 car.

It's spick and span, from head to pan, with all the features that make today's Buick engine the pacesetter of the power parade.

And it can be yours in less than two days. Look at the list of what you get—the most complete power package ever. There's a brand-new ignition system—brand-new clutch, pistons, pins, rings, valves—even the water pump.

We can make this offer because engine output has outstripped new-car production at the factory. The cost? Much less than you think, although it varies a bit from model to model.

Come in today for detailed figures on bringing your old Buick right up to date on power.

Weekend Grid Card Features Home Tilts For H. S. Elevens, Red Jackets

Home tilts will be the order of the day for Warren county's three high school grid machines and the Warren Red Jacket semi-pros this weekend.

The Warren High Dragons, winners of six games in seven starts, square off against the undefeated Ridgway powerhouse which has rolled to six impressive triumphs. War Memorial Field in Lexington avenue will be the battle ground for this scrap on Saturday afternoon, with the kickoff at 2:30 o'clock.

Also on Saturday afternoon, Sheffield will face Johnsonburg on Sheffield's Memorial Field, while Youngsville High will take on the Flying Dutchmen from St. Marys on the Youngsville field.

The War Memorial Field gridiron will hardly have a chance to cool off from the hot Warren-Ridgway battle before the Warren Red Jackets will warm things up again with a Sunday afternoon clash with the New Kensington Aluminers. Kickoff for this scrap will be at 2 o'clock.

South Side Market smothered Smiths Lumber and Solar Electric's well-lacked Bakers Cleaners under heavy barrage of strikes and spares in Elks Club tenpin league competition last night. Elks League officials reported the 2735 match total set by South Side Market was a new league high for this year. The South Siders also are the only squad in the big Elks Club loop that has remained undefeated in five weeks of bowling.

LINEMAN OF WEEK WOULD BE FULLBACK

Pullman, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The "lineman of the week" wants to be a fullback.

Laurie Niemi, 240-pound tackle for Washington State College, was thrilled today to be named the country's top lineman for the week in an Associated Press football poll.

But it would be a greater thrill for him to make a touchdown.

"That's been my ambition," he said. "In college and all through high school I wanted to play in the backfield."

You'd never think he was dissatisfied with his job if you had watched him Saturday rearing up out of the line like a freight elevator to bat down University of Washington backs.

Financing Law Big Help To Car Buyers

Harrisburg, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's car buyers are today saving thousands of dollars thanks to the 1947 auto financing law.

So says D. Emmert Brumbaugh, state banking secretary, after more than a year of operation of the new regulations which limit interest charges on automobile financing.

"The new law has undoubtedly resulted in saving many thousands of dollars for the citizens of the commonwealth," he said in a statement.

Brumbaugh went on to say that licenses were issued in the first year to more than 5,000 motor vehicle dealers, 640 banks and finance companies and 17 collector-repossessors.

Approximately 750 dealers and 100 banks and finance companies, however, still have not made application for renewal of their licenses, he added.

The law bars any dealer from transferring an installment sale contract to an unlicensed bank or finance company. It also makes the contract unenforceable as far as collection of a financing charge is concerned.

More than $10,000 in overcharges have been uncovered by the banking department. Brumbaugh said all of the money has been returned to buyers.

"These overcharges were not wilful violations of the law," he said, "but resulted generally from misinterpretation of the new act."

"On the whole, a splendid record has been achieved in the first year's operation under the new law and it has been made possible by the wholehearted cooperation of the entire automotive industry," Brumbaugh added.

Great Ado Around Palace Over Coming of the Stork

London—All the advantages of a modern hospital plus the comforts of home will be offered at Buckingham Palace to Princess Elizabeth for the expected birth of her baby in mid-November.

The princess's grandmother, Queen Mary, is largely responsible.

Eminently practical in management of a royal household, the wife of King George V installed a palace surgery early in her career as queen.

Attending the princess will be Sir William Gilliat, president of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, assisted by Sir Lancelot Edward Barrington-Ward, surgeon to the king since 1936. Two other physicians are likely to be present but their names have not been announced.

Sir William is regarded as one of the nation's most brilliant gynecologists. He attended the Duchess of Kent at the birth of her three children, Princess Alexandra, Prince Michael and Prince Edward. He was made a knight last winter.

Sir Lancelot is an expert in children's surgery.

The careful preparations for the royal birth are merely in keeping with the times. No complications are anticipated. Princess Elizabeth has been in excellent health throughout her pregnancy. But no safeguards or precautions will be overlooked.

There has been some speculation whether anaesthesia will be used. The attending physicians refuse to discuss the case. Informed sources say the royal family does not favor at least one type of anaesthesia in fairly common use. The family is reported to have no prejudice against all anaesthetics, however.

The general assumption is that there will be one great difference between the birth of the princess's child and the only previous birth at Buckingham Palace of an heir to the throne.

The first royal child born there was Queen Victoria's eldest son who later ruled as Edward VII.

L. E. STOTZ

In one of my Ranger Columns devoted to the hemlock, the state tree, I stressed the ability of this tree to withstand shade and to live for many years in a suppressed condition little more than holding its own underneath the towering trees above it which cut off the sunlight.

Last week while inspecting one of the active timber sales I found a particularly interesting example of this ability of the hemlock to live in a suppressed condition without losing its ability to forge ahead when its opportunity came.

A stump count of the annual rings showed that in the first 60 years of its life the tree only grew 2 1/2 inches in diameter. By the time it was 100 years old the total diameter had only reached 5 1/2 inches, and at 140 years of age it was only 7 1/2 inches in diameter at the stump.

During this 140 years of its life this tree was being suppressed by other trees which towered above it and cut off the sunlight.

From about 1756, when it was a tiny seedling until about 1896 this little hemlock just bided its time waiting for a place in the sun.

Four major wars, all fought on American soil, took place during the time it took this tree to grow only twice the width of a man's hand on the stump.

Then about the time of the Spanish American war the tree's top, overhanging the ground, for the first time in nearly a century and a half the full warmth of the sunlight shined down unimpeded on this hemlock. At last its chance had come.

Rapid growth followed so in the next 52 years of its life it grew twice as much as in the 140 years. By 1948, when it felled for lumber, it measured 22 1/2 inches at the stump.

Under modern forest management this hemlock would have to wait 140 years before it could start making substantial growth by selective harvesting of surrounding timber, at short intervals, stagnation of growth would be held to a minimum for hemlock and other suppressed trees.

20 Members Welcomed By The Jaycees

The Junior Chamber of Commerce last evening welcomed 20 new members at the October meeting of the organization in the YMCA. The introduction of these new members was the highlight of the session at which project committee reports were heard and a new project adopted.

The new project considered was the "I Speak for Democracy Contest," a public speaking contest for high school students, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Broadcasters and the Radio Manufacturers Association. More details about this contest will be announced shortly.

Yesterday noon the Jaycees board of directors held a noon luncheon at the Carver Hotel to meet Harold W. Budding, Jaycee state president, and Kenneth Shrike, state secretary, both from Lancaster. The officers are on a tour of northwest Pennsylvania and tonight will attend the charter presentation ceremonies of the Greenville chapter.

20,000th Marriage License Issued Here Is Given Couple Free

Floyd LeRoy Corbett, of Butler, and Geraldine Margaret Samuelson, of Warren, were made additionally happy when they appeared at the office of Register and Recorder Don Schuler in the Court House this morning to apply for a marriage license. They learned that they were the recipients of the 20,000th such license to be issued in Warren county and this one was on the house.

It is interesting to note that the first marriage license issued in Warren county was dated October 1, 1885 and went to James Timothy Larby, of Chardon, and Julie Burnes Connelly, of Bradford. Clerk of Orphan's Court at the time was W. J. Alexander.

The license for the young couple who appeared this morning will be issued on Monday, following the customary three-day period of waiting, Recorder Schuler said.

Connecticut has been known since the Revolutionary War as "the Arsenal
